LEADERS OBEY THE LAW BUT MINERS HESITATE

Present Outlook Is For Speedy Ending Of Coal Strike By Arbitration—R. R. Compromise Offer Looms

The topic of interest yesterday all over the United States was as to whether or not the leaders of the striking coal miners would obey the court's order to call the strike off, or not. It was a topic of discussion from ocean to ocean, and when the wires flashed the intelligence that the union officials had decided to obey the law and accede to the court's mandate, a sigh of relief went over the nation, for had it been otherwise grave trouble would not have been held back.

By their action the union officials of the union placed themselves and their striking men in a much more favorable light with public opinion, which will now back them in all honest and reasonable demands for a better wage and better conditions. The officials said they bowed to the will of the court and the law in protest, but they were Americans and could not fight their government. That was a splendid and loyal sentiment, and they gained immeasurably by it.

The latest news the News could get from San Francisco by phone up to 2 p. m. this morning was to the effect that while many of the striking miners are stubborn and refuse to go back to work, the opinion prevails in Washington and New York, not only by government officials but labor leaders, that the mines will soon be working to almost capacity, and the men will look to President Wilson to keep his promise to use every effort to bring about a condition of wages and conditions satisfactory to the workers. And this may be set down as being about the status of the case this morning.

Grave trouble has been averted, for the time being, at least, and there is every reason to believe now that both capital and labor will be more conciliatory in spirit from now on, and that by the beginning of the new year all of the big industrial troubles will be on their way to a settlement which shall be just to all parties concerned.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Officials of the United States Mine Workers of America and representatives of the coal operators were invited today by Secretary of Labor Wilson to meet him here Friday to discuss a new wage agreement.

RAILROAD HEAD WILL OFFER COMPROMISE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—In an effort to reach an adjustment on the wage demands of railroad employees, Director General Hines arranged to confer today with the chiefs of the four railroad brotherhoods.

The railroad administration, it was understood, was not prepared to meet the full demands of the brotherhoods and was expected to offer as a compromise a small general increase. If the brotherhoods insisted upon their original demands, another industrial complication was feared.

OHIO STILL WABBLING; IS WET TO-DAY

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Ohio last Tuesday voted against ratifying the federal prohibition amendment by a majority of 641, according to complete official returns received today by the secretary of state.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL ISSUE STATEMENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—President Wilson's cabinet met at 11 o'clock, Armistice Day, cheered at the first step in a peace move by the great body of striking coal miners.

President Wilson was expected to issue a statement later in the day on the government's position in the coal strike situation, once the miners agree to comply with the coal order. Secretary Tamm indicated such a statement would be forthcoming.

SCHWAB PREDICTS INDUSTRIAL PEACE

PASADENA, Nov. 11.—Charles M. Schwab, accompanied by Mrs. Schwab and a secretary, arrived at a local hotel today for what he said would be his first "real vacation" in thirty years. Schwab said he did not care to discuss industrial questions, saying, "there has been too much talk already." He added, however, that he had an abiding faith in the good sense of labor and capital, and believed that they were getting closer together.

BERKELEY BOYCOTTING HIGH PRICED BREAD

BERKELEY, Nov. 11.—Thoroughly aroused at the high price of bread, members of the recently organized Berkeley Housewives' League will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the council chamber at the city hall to consider ways and means of placing a ban on the 17-cent loaf. Recipes for the baking of homemade bread will be distributed among the women present, and directions given to housewives inexperienced in the art.

'I'LL TELL THE WORLD'

Automobiles and I. W. W.'s are all tired. With no "gats" or half pints, why a hip pocket? It takes some genius to make a bluff stick. Are the "matches made in heaven" the safety kind? Don't be so absent minded as to forget your change. It is easier to arouse suspicion than enthusiasm. Travel makes a man wise enough to stay at home. You can frequently "save your bacon" by watching your liver. The farmers save the count-try when the politicians do not. Do not gossip during working hours, and after that forget it. Some are "born great" and others were buttonhole bouquets.

BOLSHEVISM FLAUNTS ITSELF IN OAKLAND

Department of justice officials in San Francisco are awaiting the report by Inspector Fenton W. Thompson of the Oakland police before making a decision as to what action will be taken in regard to the all-day Sunday meeting of a radical group of 100 delegates at Loring hall, Eleventh and Clay streets, where the Communist Labor party of California was formulated with a constitution modeled after that of the most radical Russian Soviet organization.

Unofficially, Inspector Thompson has given it as his opinion that the meeting violated the syndicalism law and that it should have been suppressed. In what degree the utterances were disloyal and anti-government, the report being prepared by the inspector will disclose, and upon that disclosure depends what course the government will adopt.

The meeting was held at a time when government officials east and west are busy combating the country for radicals who preach revolution. Whether it is determined that the doctrine preached was actually revolutionary, in violation of the provisions of the law for suppression of such agitation, will depend upon a close scanning of the notes of the speeches taken by the inspector. According to the unofficial report the leader of the meeting, Max Bodat, a national organizer of the communist labor movement, advocated the closer union of all the revolutionary forces in the country. The doctrine of Bolshevism was upheld in speeches and songs and the Soviet government principal given three cheers.

The American flag was shrouded with a red banner and I. W. W. and other radically edited pamphlets were stored on the tables. The walls were decorated with German lodge charters and other evocative present indicated to the inspector that the hall is the meeting place of a dangerously radical element.

ARTS CLUB TO ADOPT CONSTITUTION TONIGHT

Mrs. A. W. Krumdick of 673 Tenth street, will be hostess to the Arts club tonight at her home. All those who are interested in creative work in painting, sculpture, drawing, music, literary composition or theatricals are requested to be present to discuss the choosing of a constitution and to assist in planning the work for the coming year.

Because of the short notice, prospective members will not be obliged to present new original creations. It will be satisfactory for them to be prepared with something that has been done in the past. Interest to the extent of practicing one of the arts is necessary before a person is admitted to membership.

Otto Ludewig has a couple of windows full of war relics that are worth seeing. There is everything there from gas masks to the diaries kept by soldiers. Kurt also has a fine war relic display.

INTERESTING S. F. BAY NEWS

Prospects Seem Brighter For Early Opening of Shipyards, Including Alameda and Bay Point — Sheriff Veale Thinks Murdered Woman Was Mexican and Crime a Year Old.

At a meeting to be held this morning at the Clyde Hotel in Bay Point, the Pacific Coast Shipbuilding company's superintendents, foremen, quartermen, and such others as are interested, will discuss informally the proposed future policy of the Bay Point Shipbuilding corporation.

According to A. F. Rahives, business agent of the Central Labor Council at Martinez, the men will vote at that meeting to go back to work under the old Macy award. The men are a unit in declaring that if the open shop announcement is made they will stand out against it.

Should these predictions prove true, it is thought that work will be resumed immediately in the yards, and the six government ships now under way will be rushed to completion.

After their completion, work will probably be begun on ten vessels ordered by the French government, a sign that that yard will remain open indefinitely.

Influential business men of Oakland and San Francisco are in conference with the ship owners in an attempt to bring about a settlement.

Through the War Department, the government is offering discharged soldiers and sailors positions with the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation as first-class mechanics and mechanics' helpers. First-class mechanics are receiving 80 cents an hour, the Macy award. The government also wants radio operators for merchant ships. The salary for first operators is $1.5 a month and for second, $100 a month.

MURDERED WOMAN BELIEVED TO BE MEXICAN

In the belief that the police records of Oakland and other bay cities may reveal a clue to the identity of the woman who was murdered in a canyon near Martinez, and whose body was found there Monday Sheriff William Veale of Martinez was in Oakland yesterday.

That the body is that of a Mexican woman and that her death is the result of a husband's retribution for a real or fancied affair with another man, was the theory advanced by Sheriff Veale.

"A Mexican woman could easily disappear and no one be the wiser," said Veale. A further study of the situation also convinces the sheriff that the body has lain there for nearly a year.

COMMITTEES NAMED FOR RICHMOND CLUB BAZAAR

The ladies of the Richmond Club are planning a fine bazaar to be held at the clubhouse on December 5 and 6, the feature of the two days being a merchants' lunch.

Mrs. C. B. Evans is in charge and she has appointed the following chairmen of the booths:

Fancy Work—Mrs. C. S. Gibson. Apron Work—Mrs. C. S. Gibson. Apron—Mrs. M. Peterson. Home Cooking—Mrs. Richard Spierch. Grab Bag—Mrs. M. Brown.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

As Atty. Tony DeLap and the editor of the News were standing on the street watching the crowd yesterday and talking over the former's experience in France, Mayor Jim Long came along and put up an awful fuss, intimating that because we two had fought each other in the recent bond campaign, and yet were peacefully chatting, that some diabolical conspiracy was being hatched. If that man Long has any friends they better take care of him, because we are laying for him with a "gat" we brought from Colorado, and it is big enough for a coyote to crawl into. It was nothing but a case of the Hon and lamb lying down together, and Mayor Jim is too stubborn to lie down with anything, except a woolen blanket.

WATCH OUT FOR COLDS URGES STATE BOARD

The California State Board of Health wants to know if the average home is conducted along approved lines of sanitation.

Are individual towels provided? Are dishes thoroughly and properly washed? Are cups, forks and spoons scalded after each usage? Are soiled handkerchiefs properly cared for?

When one member of a family contracts a common cold, other members generally contract colds in due season. Affectionate greetings, the kisses and the embraces, even handshaking, between infected members have considerable to do with the transmission of colds as well as the promiscuous sneezing and careless nose-blowings. Droplet and spray infections also play their part. These methods of transmission are important and probably constitute the chief factors in the spread of common colds.

On the other hand, the use of the common towel and drinking cup, the careless washing of dishes, especially cups, forks and spoons, as well as the careless disposal of soiled handkerchiefs, may, under some conditions, be of even greater importance in the spread of common colds.

At any rate, no household can afford to neglect the practice of common approved methods of sanitation. Their adoption will undoubtedly have considerable to do with the prevention of the spread of communicable diseases other than common colds.

No family should tolerate the common towel or the common drinking cup, and as for the efficient washing of dishes, that is the pride of every good housewife.

MENDELSSOHN CLUB KEEPS PARTY SECRET

Considerable secrecy has been maintained about the whist party of the Mendelssohn club that was held last Saturday night. The News reporter arrived on the scene at 11:30, expecting to be in time for refreshments, but all was dark. Everyone had had a good time and gone home.

A zealous use of the telephone reveals the fact that Dr. Bloke won the first men's prize, a complex affair in the way of a card case and score marker, and that Mrs. Spierch was the fortunate winner of a box of apples, as first ladies' prize.

Beyond this information, a veil seems to be drawn over the affair. Did it end in a wild scramble for the apples? Has the H. C. L. so affected the minds of all that the sight of food arouses the primitive? A strict silence is maintained by the participants.

The benefit carnival for an ailing Standard Oil man was a success, netting a considerable sum, under the management of Al. Hall.

IT WAS A GALA DAY AND EVERYBODY HELPED

Monster Parade; Fine Oration by David Starr Jordan, Music Galore, Sports Interesting, Prize Winners Are All Happy

Under a blue sky that seemed in tune with the happiness of the first anniversary of Armistice Day, the program planned by the Richmond committee went forward without a hitch.

From the stalwart policemen who opened the parade to the small boys who always follow, not a face was seen that did not smile. Every unit of the parade was so good that it would be difficult to say which was best. A great deal of comment was given to the One Minute Girls, the American Legion and to the High School Boy Scouts, for their snappy appearance and evident spirit with which they entered into the ceremony of the day.

Nearly all those who paraded entered the gates of First street park to take part in the exercises of the day, honoring Dr. Boyer, Prof. David Starr Jordan and the Oakland Rotary Club, with the closest attention, and baring their heads in sympathy while a volley was fired in honor of the soldier comrades who lie in France, after a touching address by Rev. Paul Little, chaplain of the day.

"This is the first anniversary of the greatest day in modern history," said Dr. Jordan. "For 2000 years or more the group of autocrats who went down to disgrace on November 11, 1918, had ruled the state. That bunch is done for—the greatest curse of the world is gone, never to be revived. Democracy has come to stay. The hand of the people is at the throttle and the vast machine is bound to go ahead."

No small feature of the celebration was the community singing, in which all joined heartily. A capacity crowd filled the stadium for the afternoon exercises that were under the direction of W. W. Scott, Isaac McGuffin, J. C. Thornton, Al Hall and Walter Mead.

At 1:30 the session opened with selections by the Municipal Band; at 1:45 a wrestling bout was staged between Pat McDonald and A. Lee for the city light championship. Lee won by two straight falls, the time being 7 and 4 minutes.

Races of all kinds were run, the field swarming with children, who were so numerous as to block the roadway for the races. They crowded so closely and were so active that it was impossible to get the names of the winners of the races, almost impossible to tell who were the winners.

Zeb Knott was the winner in the fat man's race, with Lambert Wierda a close second.

The only disadvantage to the greased pig race was that the pig refused to run. He was tame. He wanted to fraternize with the 150 children who were out to run him down. Frank Anderson was the lucky winner and the envy of all the others.

Napa failed to show up for the football game, so two of the high school teams staged a fast game that proved vastly interesting to the crowd. A boy's boxing match followed.

In a wrestling match Al Hall won over Nathan Mortensen by throwing him twice in 15 minutes. Christiansen Brothers staged a fast wrestling bout to close the program.

REDMEN ENTERTAIN LADIES AND GUESTS

A good sized crowd attended the Redmen's Ladies' night last evening and a fine time was enjoyed by all present. Several numbers on the program which were heartily received were as follows:

Vocal Solo—James Rasmussen. Violin Solo—Morris Jasven. Vocal Solo—Miss Gloria Osborne. Short talk by Mr. Truett of San Francisco. Violin Solo—James Hoffe. Vocal Solo—Maude Johnston. The program was followed by dancing to a good jazz orchestra.

RED CROSS DRIVE GOES ON TO-DAY

The One Minute Girls descended on the throng of spectators at the parade yesterday morning and in less than an hour collected $160. This added considerably to the total.

In order to reach the $7000 mark, the drive will continue through today.

AUBREY WILSON'S SISTER DIES IN KENTUCKY

Because of the length of the trip, Aubrey Wilson will not be able to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Elsie Van Noy, today in Madisonville, Kentucky.

Mrs. Van Noy died Monday after a two-week's illness with typhoid fever. Besides Aubrey Wilson the deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wilson, a husband, Roy Van Noy, two small children and several brothers and sisters. She was 30 years of age.

A marriage license was issued to Frank C. Skaggs, 21, and Miss Anna M. Phillips, 18, both of Richmond, at Oakland Monday.

TIMES AND PEOPLE CHANGING

That people do not go to church as much as they used to is a well-known fact, and probably there is no one reason for it, but a combination of reasons, chief among which is the fact that times, customs and people are changing all over the world, and nothing is now as it used to be.

People do not read books and magazines as much as they used to, either. They go to movie picture shows and go riding in automobiles. Hundreds of thousands who used to go to church and then read a book on a Sunday are now kiting all over the country in autos. Probably the coming of the automobile has taken more business and also working men away from Sunday church services than any other one source. People like to get out into the country and away from the city, and Sunday is about the only day they have to do it.

Then again, people are much more educated and enlightened than they used to be, and because of this many of them have refused to longer accept some of the dogmas of the church creeds.
Many of them who in their childhood were taught to believe in the divinity of Christ, a literal heaven and a personal God, a literal hell and a personal Devil, no longer hesitate to say that they do not believe in those dogmas and creeds.

It is a hard problem to solve, and yet every man and woman ought to try to solve it, for it means more to every one of us than anything else does.

Our idea of it is that we should all lend our moral and financial support to the church, because of the great good it does to mankind, if for no other reason. We do not have to absorb all of the dogmas of the various creeds if we do not want to, but have the privilege of accepting such as appeals to us and getting what good we can out of them, and casting aside from our minds such of them as we do not want to accept.

When we go into a restaurant we do not eat everything on the menu. We eat what we want and leave what we do not want, and there is no reason why we cannot do so with church dogmas.
Following this simile up further, it is a fact that on the menu may be a lot of food that we do not want, but that some other people would rather have than any other kind, so why not let them enjoy the kind they like and we do the same? We do not get up from the table and leave the house just because there is something served which we do not relish—then why should we leave the church for a similar reason?

It takes all kinds of people to make a world,
and all kinds of food to satisfy them, as many kinds of food, in fact, as there are kinds of people. And this applies, also, to spiritual food.
Whatever the reasons for the people drifting away from the church, they are wrong, and they should drift back again.

GOVERNMENT AFTER FOOD GANGS

The opening wedge into the high cost of living problem has been pounded home. The Chicago federal grand jury has returned indictments against a number of commission men, members of the Butter and Egg Board, charging them with being formed in a sort of practical food manipulating band, to deal in eggs for future delivery in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

In plainer English, these men are charged with dealing in eggs which exist on paper, but not in the nest, with the result that the public paid exorbitant prices for one of life's necessities.

Another grand jury, it was announced, will soon take up the matter of prices of grain, as fixed on the Board of Trade, and the matter of coal prices, said to be fixed in an equally vicious manner, much to the discomfort and annoyance of the public. Out of the pockets of the general public has come the tribute exacted
by the food and coal barons.

This affair of the Federal Grand Jury indictment in Chicago is only a little indication of what is going to happen in every city of importance in this country some time within the next six months.

The plain, everyday man in the street is willing to do his "bit" in this hour of the country's need, but he is not willing to go hungry himself or let his wife and children even dream of going hungry—just to help put an extra thousand or so into the bank at the end of the week for these food manipulators.

PAYS TO ADVERTISE

A city in the south, advertising its many advantages, among others mentions the fact that very handsome coffins and caskets are made there and sold at reasonable prices; also that the ambulance is available and responds to accidents when not otherwise engaged. Fine!
What more do you want? Nice, comfortable coffins cheap and a ride in the ambulance while you are waiting for the casket! Must be a good place to die in.

THINKOGRAPHS

Secretary Wilson says the people should raise more hogs. Berkshire, Poland-China or political?

It takes a man of much learning to appreciate the things he knew before he ever had any learning.

There were forty-nine people killed in Los Angeles this year by automobiles. The politicians all dodged successfully.

The government has at last discovered that the price of living has advanced. The rest of us knew it long ago.

When a legislator gets compound puckeration
by eating a green persimmon, he immediately draws up a bill prohibiting persimmons.

Maybe one reason there are a few old chaps around nearly a hundred years of age is because they ante-dated the drunk and disorderly automobile.

Oregon is undertaking to stamp out the social evil by law, fining and imprisoning everybody implicated, including the owner of the premises.
Go to it with an axe! The more prostitution the less marriage.

An outdoor sleeping couch has been invented which folds up against the side of the house like a sleeping car berth when not in use. Handy for hubby when he comes home from "lodge" and sees a pinwheel going around on the door
where the keyhole ought to be.

Nearly every man who embezzles money expects to pay it back before getting caught. The best way is to not only mean to do right, but do it. It's hard sometimes, but the directions on the bottle say to take it regularly.

President Wilson refuses to fire a New Jersey labor commissioner on no other grounds than that he is a Republican, claiming that being a Republican is not necessarily a disqualification.
Not exactly good Democratic logic, but it has its merit.

Things that women can do better than men they will always be invited to do. Things that men can do better than women they will do, and in the long run nature will be the umpire against decisions. No protest will avail.

A college professor thought he would startle
the world when discovering that the north star was a group of triplets, but a neighboring editor knocks him clear out by saying that he has known that for years; seen it with the naked eye lots of times; also seen half a dozen moons all at once, and lots of other things. Sure! Our journalistic brother is right.

A New York dispatch says a woman there has worked her way to the top of the telephone business. We are opposed to our women climbing those tall poles.

We honestly believe we are getting a little sense, finally. Not much, of course, but a little.
Just bought a pair of new shoes and got 'em a size larger than ever before.

GRIFFITH SHOWS SURPRISING PLAY

It was in the plight of a stranger that David W. Griffith found one of the most impressive and vivid climaxes in his second Artcraft production. "A Romance of Happy Valley," which will be shown at the Richmond Theatre today and tomorrow.

It is doubtful if in all drama and literature there is a meeting with more suspense, more thrills and greater surprise than those attending the coming of the stranger to Happy Valley. Persons who are inconsiderate of strangers will never forget it, and after all, that about means everyone, doesn't it?

ELECTRICAL WORKERS GET INCREASED PAY

A committee representing electrical workers of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company on the Pacific Coast and in Nevada reached an agreement with the company whereby splicers and head gangmen will receive twenty-five cents a day increase.

The agreement would lower the amount charged by the company from boarding men away from headquarters from a dollar and a half a day to a dollar and a quarter a day.

JONES' CUMFY BED

Tell you what, folks, when a poor benighted scribe has been chasing around all day and up to 2 g. m. at night, and looks into that window at the Jones Drygoods store and takes note of that cumfy bed, all fixed up fine and inviting, with soft blankets, and a pretty lady standing by it with the blanket in her hands, sort of inviting a fellow to crawl in between the sheets and snug down away from the cold bay breezes that are whizzing around about that time of night—well, say! If the woman wasn't there we believe we would be tempted to burglarize that window and crawl in and snooze and forget all troubles of a weary world. But, of course, as long as the lady stands guard, our natural modesty, for which we are noted far and wide, anyhow far if not wide, sort of interferes.

LEAGUE OF MATRONS 14 PEACE POINTS

The San Diego Leader comes forward with a new one on the League of Nations, also involving fourteen peace points, as follows:

1. Disarmament; Flatirons, rolling-pins and other instruments of warfare shall be junked and all married couples shall live according to the rules of the league to enforce domestic peace.

2. Relatives shall not be invited except by mutual consent of both powers.

3. Possessions of both parties shall be put in a common pool, to be used only by a unanimous vote. The old man shall not hold out ten cents of salary on Saturday and claim he lost it.

4. The husband shall notify the wife at once of all increases in salary and not keep her on the old salary basis of figuring. This has been one of the great evils of international exchange.

5. Ports of entry shall be free. The wife shall not lock the front door and back door and all the windows when the husband is out late. Maybe once in ten years there may be a valid reason for it.

6. The right of self-determination shall be observed rigidly. Husbands shall pick out their own clothes and no man shall be obliged to wear a pink necktie when he prefers hellotrope.

7. All questions of domestic state shall be settled by vote. If the vote results in a tie the matter shall go the wife's way.

8. Any husband who gets theater passes and makes the wife think he paid $2 apiece for them shall be fined by the League of Matrons.

9. The League of Matrons shall meet once each year to help make the world safe for matrimony.

10. No husband shall have any foreign possessions unknown to the other half.

11. Taps shall be sounded at 9 P. M.

12. No wife shall give her husband old clothes to the Salvation Army without having submitted the matter to arbitration.

13. There shall be no conversation whatever at the breakfast table. Thousands of domestic wars will thus be avoided.

14. If there are any small nations in the domestic league their upbringing shall be governed jointly by husband and wife, all spanking being done alternately by them.

GEORGE CALLIGHEHRIS BACK FROM FRANCE

GEORGE CALLIGHEHRIS

George Callighehris, chef of the Gold Mine Restaurant, whistles reminiscently as he makes hot ham sandwiches and fries eggs for his customers. His reminiscences are of his two years in Europe fighting for his adopted country.

George was working at the same restaurant in 1917, when the call of the country came to Richmond. He was one of the first to enlist from this city, although he had not yet become a citizen.

After three weeks of service as a cook he was placed in the 146th Field Artillery of the A. E. F., in which division he led a charmed life, going unscathed for nineteen months through the Champagne-Marne, the Alsne-Marne, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne engagements, and winning four citations for bravery.

While in Germany he got a fourteen-day leave of absence to visit his parents in Greece, but he was three and one-half months making the trip to and back from Harlont-Kutner, because of difficulties of transportation. Because of his citations he was not punished for his prolonged absence.

No young man of Richmond is prouder of his honorable discharge than is George, and no one is more loyal to the country that he served fearlessly and willingly.

EDUCATORS MAP THRIFT COURSE FOR SCHOOLS

N. E. A. Head Urges the Need of Savings Study in Our Schools.

San Francisco, Cal.—Before the end of the year there will be established a standardized course in thrift and saving in every public school in the seven states of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, according to plans worked out by the state superintendents of public instruction of the West in cooperation with the war loan organization. The superintendent of public instruction in each state will serve as state director of thrift education.

It is not at all unlikely that as a result of this move in the West to found a better American citizenship by the teaching and practice of thrift in the public schools that the idea will be taken up throughout the United States. In this connection, Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, state superintendent of public instruction for the state of Washington and president of the National Educational Association, has written as follows to each member of the executive committee of the association:

"Here in the West we are going to put in every public school a standardized course in thrift and attempt to teach it on a plane with the fundamentals of the common school branches. In the nature of a laboratory in connection with the course, savings societies will be organized in each school with the idea of making the course habit-forming.

"I cannot too strongly recommend to you as a member of the executive committee that every state in the Union take steps immediately to introduce similar courses in the curriculum of every public school in America. We have reached a danger point in the American social and economic structure and it lies with us who are charged with the public education of our citizens to undertake the responsibility of meeting not only the present crisis, but the vital need for permanent thrift as a national habit."

First available reports of savings work among school pupils this term come from the San Francisco schools through Philip J. Lawler, manager of the school savings department of the Bank of Italy, which is co-operating with the government. The report shows a total of $28,437.90 saved and invested in Thrift, War Savings and School Penny Stamps in 73 school days. The number of students investing was 65,149.

Within a short time Mr. Lawler said he would have a report on the work in 275 California schools which have an attendance of 90,000 school children. Of this total number of schools 174 are country schools.

"We must have the close co-operation of the newspapers of the West and of leaders of public opinion in this work of turning out better citizens," said Mrs. Preston. "We school superintendents, principals, and teachers are undertaking this job because we think it is our job. However, it is every true American's job and we will need all the help and co-operation we can get."

Attending a conference called by Governor John U. Calkins of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco at which the decision to introduce the study of thrift to school curricula were the following superintendents of public instruction:

W. J. Hunt, Nevada.
G. N. Child, Utah.
Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, Washington.
Miss Ethel E. Redfield, Idaho.
Will C. Wood, California.

The Sobering Bundle By Walt Mason.

When you have a bunch of boodle in the bank just up the pike, you'll stand up for Yankee Doodle, law and order and the like. Then no creed of devastation, such as Russian outlaws shriek, will receive your confirmation—you'll denounce it like a streak. When a man is broke and hustled, with no package laid away, he is evermore disgusted with the laws we all obey. He would see our courts all leveled, and the judges on the rack, and the plutocrats bedeviled till they gave up all their stack. He would see all things upended, Justice he would render mute, then his chances would be splendid to accumulate some loot. I have seen some agitators stirring up the people's souls, and they all wore cast-off garters and their pants were full of holes. And they said their chains were clank, ink, as they damned the plutocrat; if they'd only do some banking they would soon get over that. I have heard the speliars thriffling putting up their weary song; I have heard the weak and shiftless saving everything is wrong. But the man who saves his money thinks the Russian creed absurd, and he thinks it heavenly funny that so many vamps are heard—Copyright, 1919. (By permission.)

The old methods of making and handling these essential household necessities would not be tolerated these days. Pasteurized products are demanded by the health authorities and the people. Our plant is one of the best in the State. We invite inspection and solicit the patronage of particular people.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Home Service.

One of the finest constructive activities of the American Red Cross in the war was Home Service in the United States, the friendly connecting link between the soldier far from home and his loved ones. This branch of the work which under the peace program of the Red Cross will be expanded to benefit all who need the assistance it can provide, is directed by scientifically trained social workers. Since instituted Home Service has assisted 900,000 soldiers' and sailors' families. This photograph shows one of the innumerable Home Service information bureaus where service men and their families could bring their problems for solution.
